JNO. STIVERS FALLS OVER RAILWAY EMBANKMENT.

While walking down the Louisville & Nashville railroad tracks near the bridge crossing Stoner Creek, on the Maysville & Nashville branch of the road Tuesday night, John Stivers, a well-known citizen of Paris, was overcome by the heat and fell, rolling down a steep embankment at that point.

He was rendered unconscious for some time by a blow on the head. For a number of years he has been suffering with a tubercular affection of the bone in his right leg, which had become so acute that physicians advised amputation, to which the afflicted man would not consent. He had spent several weeks in the Massie Memorial Hospital as a patient owing to this trouble.

In falling down the embankment, Stivers' leg was badly injured by striking against a rock, and the old wound reopened, causing it to bleed profusely. He managed to crawl to the edge of the creek close by, where he bathed the wound and tried to stop the flow of blood by binding the leg with a handkerchief. His feeble cries for assistance went unheard. Dragging himself to a tree nearby he passed the night in this condition. Early Wednesday morning Mr. Lee, an employee of the Louisville & Nashville, passing by heard groans and upon investigating, found Stivers, partly unconscious and unable to move, lying under the tree. Mr. Lee secured help and the injured man was removed to the Massie Memorial Hospital, where he remains in a very critical condition.

PICTURE OF IMPERSONATOR IS RECEIVED BY LOCAL MANAGER

Mr. John McDermott, manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, has received from the commandant of the army post at New London, Conn., a photo of the man who has been impersonating James Cain, son of Mr. John P. Cain, of this city, in an attempt to extort the sum of $20 from him.

The photograph was accompanied by a letter from the commandant, in which he stated that the photo was made at the army post, and that the man who represented himself as Private Noel Stevens was being kept in close confinement, pending an investigation of his case. He also stated that he would greatly appreciate any information as to Stevens' past record, to be used in conducting the prosecution of the case against him.

Everyone who has seen the photo and who know the original pronounce it an excellent likeness of Noel Stivers, formerly of Paris, who has been in the army service for some time. The photo shows a profile view and a full view of the face, it being without question that of Stivers.

No further information has been received from New London as to what disposition will be made of Stevens' case, but that he will be court-martialed on the consensus of all here who are acquainted with military matters.

NEGRO COPS BUICK, TOOLS AND MOST "EVERYTHING."

Some time ago Mr. Morris Stern, junk dealer on Eighth street, bought an old Buick machine as junk and took it to his place of business for storage. He engaged a negro named Jones who was a good auto mechanic, to give the machine the look-over, with a view of placing it in running condition. Jones did so, but when the job was completed he gathered up all the tools Mr. Stern owned, together with his own, closed up a restaurant he had been operating on Eighth street, added part of his household goods and all his own tools to the plunder, and storing it all in the machine, together with his wife, departed for parts unknown. Mr. Stern expressed great satisfaction over the fact that his mechanic had left him the garage and his junk pile.

THE KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS MINSTRELS.

Rehearsals for the coming appearance in this city of the Knights of Pythias Minstrels, to be put on at the Grand Opera House under the auspices of Rathbone Lodge, are going on steadily each night, and those who are to take part are becoming more and more interested in their work, and are determined to make the entertainment a go. For the present the rehearsals are being conducted under the direction of Prof. A. H. Morehead, formerly of Paris. Gov. Bowen, who will have charge of the comedy end of the entertainment, will come to Paris in a few days, and start things to going in his end of the game.

INTERESTING OIL NOTES

The Co-operating Land and Development Company is due in with its No. 1 on the Susie Bryant lease in Lee county.

The Bourbon Oil and Development Company is sinking a test well on the holdings of the Mutual Oil and Refining Company in Knox county, which should be in next week.

At a meeting of the directors of the Mutual Oil and Refining Company, of Paris, this week, L. G. Campbell, an attorney of Whitley City, was chosen as vice president of the company. Earl W. Cox, a banker of Lexington, Ind., and George Fishback, a real estate man of Carlisle, were added to the board of directors. C. L. Bell, of Paris, and S. V. Brents, of Lexington, are the other directors, being president and secretary, respectively, of the company.

The Mutual Oil and Refining Company, of Paris, has acquired leases on 450 acres of land in Lincoln county, situated near Crab Orchard. It is reported that number of test wells are being drilled in this vicinity, some of which will serve to test the Mutual's holdings. The Dix River Oil Company is said to be preparing to sink a test well to a depth of 3,000 feet in this neighborhood if oil in paying quantities is not encountered sooner.

"Names is names," and "There is nothing in a name" are familiar quotations, and often used. Many people have wondered why the name of "Little Banjo" was chosen for one of the oil companies having its office in Paris. THE NEWS asked one of the officials the reason. He replied: "Well, it was this way. Up in the mountain county where our holdings are there was an old-timer who was an expert at wood carving, and who was a natural-born mechanical genius. He had a little boy who had developed a decided musical talent, and of whom I had grown very fond. This boy always wanted a banjo, and finally the old man made one for him, about the size of the society girl's ukelele. It was a complete instrument in every respect, and the boy grew wild about it. He learned to play it like a veteran. When I came back to Paris and our company, in organizing, was at a loss for a name. I related the story of the boy's little banjo, and asked permission to name our company 'The Little Banjo.' It went through with a whirl, and still sticks."

SHOWING THEM HOW THE FORDSON DOES WORK.

The Fordson Tractor Factory representative, Mr. Robert O'Brien, assembled a number of nearby Fordson agents at the Ruggles Motor Co.'s place of business in this city, yesterday, for the purpose of showing them how the Fordson was threshing wheat for a number of farmers in Bourbon county.

Among those present were: Mr. Williams, of the Commercial Auto Co., Lexington; Mr. Harper, of the Harper Garage, Carlisle; Mr. Strother, of Strother Motor Co., Mt. Sterling; Mr. Jones, of the Jones Motor Co., Cynthia. A number of Fordson owners from the county were also present. The threshing was done on the farm of Mr. J. Frank Clay.

"BUSINESS DOCTOR" ENTER-TAINS PARIS MERCHANTS AT ALAMO.

Mr. R. H. Kennedy, of the National Cash Register Company, at Dayton, Ohio, who has become known in the business world as the "Doctor of Business," delivered an inspiring and educational address to the merchants, business men and clerks of Paris at the Alamo Theatre, Wednesday night. The talk was accompanied by lantern slides, and a movie picture, entitled "The Troubles of a Merchant, and How To Overcome Them." His talk and the pictures showed very plainly why so many business men do not make money out of their business that they ought to get out of the capital invested.

Primarily the lectures and the pictures are an educational advertisement for the National Cash Register Company, and mighty good advertising, at that. But it is well worth the time of any man who is in business to hear Mr. Kennedy and see the picture, for it presents a striking lesson in modern systematic business principles, without which no business is going to get along in these days. The Alamo was comfortably filled with business men and their associates Wednesday night, and they all admitted at the close of the "show" that they had been well rewarded for the time they had spent there.

During his talk Mr. Kennedy referred to newspaper advertising and told the local business men some things that they ought to heed just as much in this connection, as along the lines of his lecture. He had a clear, concise method of telling his story, and no one could fail to grasp even the smallest detail. He said in part:

"I believe that I am safe in saying that ten merchants have failed because they advertised too little to every one that failed because he advertised too much. Certainly many stores have remained small due to this neglect. Dunn & Co. report that eighty-one per cent. of the retail grocers who failed in 1918 were men who did not advertise in the local papers. And about the same proportions are found in other lines."

"Advertising is simply a way of telling possible purchasers about the goods you have for sale. Simple words and direct statements should, therefore, be used in preparing the advertisements. Big words and involved sentences will not be read. The purchasing public doesn't care how well educated you are. It simply wants to know what you have to sell, its quality and the price."

"Your advertising is your store news. If you haven't any, make some. A new line of goods. Cut prices on goods you want to turn over. It's easy enough to get the news if you will only watch for the opportunities. Don't spend a few dollars in advertising and then say 'Advertising doesn't pay.' Advertising does pay, as has been attested by thousands of merchants who have become successful through its use. Make it a part of the continuous policy of your store, and you will not be disappointed, and you will always find that the greatest and most reliable and the most far-reaching advertising medium in the world to-day is the newspaper. Patronize your local papers, and you will be astonished at the results if you use wisdom and good judgment in your advertising schemes."

"Select your advertising medium carefully. Its advertising value depends to a certain extent upon the goods you sell and the conditions under which you sell them. Except for the small store serving a district of a large city, more people can be reached oftener and at less expense through the medium of well-placed ads in the newspapers than in any other way. The merchant who is not using them is missing an opportunity."

This lecture and picture were compiled at great effort and expense by the National Cash Register people, and showed the right and wrong way to build up a business on business principles. The lecture was lengthy, but not dull for a minute. Mr. Kennedy was frequently interrupted with applause, and many of his apt remarks and illustrations went home to the listeners. His discourse on the value of and necessity for continued and judicious advertising was plain and truthful and he well stated that honest and systematic advertising, with honest prices and conduct of business, were the foundation stones of a successful business. The lecture was helpful to everyone who attended it and the merchant, business man or clerk who failed to attend, missed an opportunity to better himself for his business.

NATIONAL CLOTHIER COMPLIMENTS PARIS MEMBER OF ASSOCIATION.

The National Clothier, the official publication of the merchant tailoring and gents' furnishing business, in its July issue, under the caption, "Kentucky Clothiers' Association Meets at Lexington in Seventh Annual Convention," has the following complimentary reference to one of that body's most representative and hustling members, Mr. J. Withers Davis, of the firm of J. W. Davis & Co., of Paris:

"Mr. Withers Davis, of Paris, who has served during the past year as secretary, finding it impossible to devote the time necessary to handle the work falling to the secretary, was allowed to retire, but in recognition of his splendid services to the Association, and in order that the organization might have the advantage of his counsel and co-operation in an official capacity during the coming year, he was made second vice-president, and will serve in that capacity."

SECRETARY WILCOX TENDERS RESIGNATION TO Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Z. L. Wilcox, who for the past two years, has most efficiently filled the position of Secretary of the Bourbon County Young Men's Christian Association, tendered his resignation at a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of that institution, to take effect on September 1. The Board reluctantly accepted the resignation, after complimenting Mr. Wilcox on the excellent record he had made during his connection with the Y. M. C. A. His successor has not been decided on.

Mr. Wilcox, during his term of office, instituted many valuable features in the Y. M. C. A., and made himself very popular by his unflinching courtesy, his grasp of the essentials necessary to conducting the work, and by his strict attention and fidelity to every duty entrusted to him. He has not yet decided where he will locate, but wherever he goes, he may rest assured that he will take with him the cordial good wishes of the people of Paris, who have learned to appreciate him at his true worth.

TRIES TO KILL SNAKE; LOSES TOES INSTEAD

TRAVELING SALESMAN TAKES OWN LIFE IN CARLISLE HOTEL.

Mack Riley, a traveling salesman, committed suicide at the Central Hotel, in Carlisle, Tuesday morning. Riley came to the hotel early in the evening and registered. He was assigned to a room, and stated that he would stay up a little while before retiring. He went to his room a few hours later, apparently in good spirits. On Wednesday morning when the proprietor of the Central went to call him, there was no response, and the door being forced open, Riley was found lying dead in bed. An empty bottle which had contained carbolic acid revealed the cause of his death.

Riley was a native of Nicholas county and had during the past two years been representing a large manufacturing company. He was for a number of years in the employ of the S. T. Barlow Co., at Headquarters, in Nicholas county. He is survived by his widow and nine children. He was a brother of Judge Riley, of Morehead. It is thought that financial troubles was the cause of his act.

The tragic taking-off of Riley had a chapter in this city, in which he was to have played a part, but death intervened. Riley had been arrested in Carlisle by deputy sheriffs and turned over to Deputy Sheriffs James Gibson and Ollie Marshall, of Bourbon county, on warrants charging him with defrauding Mrs. Potts out of $35 and Mrs. Neppie Rigdon, out of $117.25. Both conduct boarding houses, Mrs. Potts in Carlisle, and Mrs. Rigdon, in Millersburg. He was brought to Paris and placed under $200 bond, with Mr. Frank Skillman as surety, for his appearance in the County Court to answer the charges set forth in the warrants. When the case was called for trial before County Judge Batterton, Tuesday, Riley did not appear, and a hurried search was instituted for him. A few moments later came the news from Carlisle of his death by his own hand. The case was dismissed.

WORK ACTUALLY BEGUN ON THE NEW DAM.

After about a year and a half of argument over the division of costs of building a new dam on the site of the old one at the plant of the Paris Milling Company, in order to conserve the water supply for the city, the papers have finally been signed, and the actual work of construction started.

The papers were signed in the office of Judge Denis Dundon, attorney for Mr. B. M. Renick, representing the Paris Water Company, and attorneys representing the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company. The signing of contracts between the Paris Water Company and the city of Paris had been previously adjusted. As soon as these necessary formalities had been carried out, the engineers of the Louisville & Nashville set a force of men to work under the supervision of Mr. S. E. McClanahan, superintendent of bridges for the L. & N., constructing a coffer dam, to hold the water back while the "forms" are being placed in position and the old dam torn away. What water escapes will be run through the mill race of the Paris Milling Co. As soon as all the necessary material is on the ground the work will be pushed forward to completion. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $15,000, and will be borne by the Paris Water Co., the Louisville & Nashville and the Paris Milling Co.

The bridge crew have constructed a large platform for the concrete mixers to be placed on. This platform is on the side of the railroad embankment overlooking the site of the new dam. From this platform the mixed concrete will be sent down a chute to the handlers and placed in the forms. The dam will be somewhat larger than the old one, and it is estimated it will back the waters up Stoner Creek several miles, to a depth of six feet or more, thus insuring a plentiful water supply in case of a drought.

Fond Of An Argument.

If the persons who take an intellectual pride in thinking that they are fond of an argument were to hear themselves described as quarrelsome, they would resent the charge with indignation. In some instances, of course, the resentment would be justified; the intellectual satisfaction in carrying on an argument is not inconsistent with the maintenance of good temper and self-control. Unhappily, few persons are so well-balanced as to enjoy this purely intellectual pleasure without being excited to an excessive vehemence. As soon as you indicate, by words or tone or look, scorn of incapacity to grasp the point that you have made clear or disgust with obstinacy that will not concede defeat, your fondness for your argument has been transformed into jealous rage on its behalf.

That it is a failing of strong intellects as well as of weak ones to let the argument degenerate into the quarrel has been lamentably attested by the public careers of innumerable eminent men. Statesmen who have declared the purpose of not descending to personalities in their discussion of public questions have more often than not become involved in bitter quarrels through inability to maintain self-control. Argument generally excites passion, and passion leads to inflammatory speech.

For this reason the persons who feel that they are fond of an argument would do well to curb that liking. Instead of taking advantage of any and every opportunity to start a discussion, they will act wisely if they resist almost any and every such temptation. Few things in the ordinary daily intercourse of life are worth arguing about; without betraying or sacrificing your convictions, you can change a topic of conversation that threatens to disclose inharmonious views; you can even, for the sake of pleasantness and good feeling, afford to let pass undebated little assertions or expressions with which in your soul you take issue. There is a time for all things, but there should be much less time for arguments than for anything else.

Playing Safe.

There is something lacking in a boy whose tendency in games and sports is, in the vernacular, to "play safe." Is anything more repugnant to the ball player than to be told by the captain as he is going to bat that he must lay down a bunt? What boy would not always rather take a healthy swing at the ball in the hope of lining it out? And the circumstances in which a player is called upon to bunt are always those that would cast over a clean hit to the outfield a special glory. Similarly, the young and ardent tennis player lobs the ball only when he is in such a plight that he cannot do anything else with it; he much prefers to try swift passing shots even though three times out of four they fail. In golf the boy who would rather practice putting than driving would be an abnormal sort of boy.

To take risks is to show the true spirit of youth. If a boy does not take risks in his games and sports, he not only never experiences the utmost exhilaration and joy of sport, but he is only half a sportsman. He may have the satisfaction of beating his opponent, but he will not have the satisfaction of feeling that he has "greatly dared and greatly won."

The best athletes are those who are cool and calculating, yet who are willing, if need be, to put the game to the hazard of a single brilliant stroke. The consistent policy of playing safe never advances a boy beyond mediocrity in any branch of sport. Every boy who is a real boy longs to advance beyond mediocrity and is impatient of victories over adversaries who are merely second-rate. The growth of the habit of playing safe belongs to later years, when the man in order to maintain himself against a livelier opponent has to adopt defensive rather than aggressive tactics. Even then it is the bold chance successfully taken rather than the victory achieved by careful method and cunning that lingers most pleasantly in the sportsman's memory.

Scientists Want Big Guns For Scientific Study.

If French astronomers and scientists can have their way, Germany's Big Bertha gun that bombarded Paris from behind the German lines will be used in conducting atmospheric experiments at altitudes never before reached.

M. de la Baume-Pluvinel, President of the Astronomical Society, is back of the movement to have Big Bertha transformed from an instrument of war into one of scientific progress.

In fact M. de la Baume-Pluvinel asks that all of the heavy artillery taken from the Germans be turned over to the astronomers for higher atmospheric investigations. He insists that they be given at least the Big Berthas.

Up to the present time the precise construction of the atmosphere at altitudes fifteen miles or such matter is merely one of speculation. By shooting mechanically registering projectiles into these upper altitudes, M. de la Baume-Pluvinel points out that the most accurate and valuable scientific information can be attained.

The French astronomer has figured out that the Big Bertha gun, pointed vertically would send a projectile up to nearly 80,000 yards in about 125 seconds. We do not know what the status of the atmosphere is at that altitude. We do not know whether its weight still continues; we do not know whether terrestrial attraction still exists there and whether as a consequence the shell from the Big Bertha would fall back to earth or whether it would start off on an aerial hunt for other planets. In the latter event it might open up a means of communication with some of our neighboring planets.

French scientists have become so interested in the possibilities of Big Bertha as a means of scientific investigation that a large number of the details for its use have already been worked out.

SUMMER COMPLAINT QUICKLY RELIEVED.

KENTUCKY CROP REPORT AS OF JULY 7, 1919.

No day is long enough for the farmer at this busy season of the year with everything coming at once. Labor shortage is acute. Wet weather during May delayed seasonable planting to that some planting is yet to be done. Corn and tobacco need cultivation; hay harvest is on hand; wheat harvest is nearing completion, with only about 17 per cent. of crop uncut on July 1st. Some wheat is reported as sprouting in shock. But little threshing of wheat has been done; however, early estimates on yield would indicate an average of 14.9 bushels per acre which is an increase over last year's early estimates. This would give a prospective production of over fifteen million bushels this year in Kentucky.

Progress of growth of corn is good. It is needing cultivation, however. Condition shows at 80 per cent. Condition of oats shows at 88 per cent, with a preliminary estimated yield of 24 bushels per acre as compared with 25 bushels last year. Early estimate on rye is 14 bushels per acre, while barley's average is given at 24 bushels. Barley acreage is about two per cent less than last year.

Condition of Burley tobacco is given at 80 per cent, while dark tobacco shows at 81 per cent. Yield of hay is estimated at 1½ tons per acre. Condition of grass follows:

Clover, 93 per cent.
Bluegrass, 95 per cent.

Orchard grass, 93 per cent.

Acreage of cow peas is given at 82 per cent, which is much less than last year, partially due to the high cost and scarcity of seed. Condition is given at 85%. Soy beans show an acreage of 88 per cent, and condition of 85%. Alfalfa acreage is considerably increased, the same being 99 per cent, while estimated yield, first cutting, is 1½ tons. Garden conditions show at 87 per cent, potatoes at 87 per cent. Fruits are extremely short crop, showing from failure in certain localities to fair crop in others. Blackberries are the exception, showing at 101 per cent.

Live stock is reported in good healthy condition, 95 per cent of normal, while poultry shows at 93 per cent.

Items As To Crop Conditions by Districts:

First District; West Central: More straw than wheat, heads not well filled. Some corn being planted yet. Pastures fine. Hay harvest is late; corn and tobacco need cultivation. Labor is scarce.

Second District; North Central: Wet weather has retarded cultivation of corn and cutting of wheat. Some damage by wire worms. Progress of growth of corn satisfactory.

Third District; Northeast: Four weeks of dry weather has caused crops to be backward. Seasonable weather latter part of June has helped crops considerably. Winds and rains have damaged wheat.

Fifth District; Central Section: Wheat harvest delayed on account of rains. Corn as a rule is late. Much wheat is tangled. Good stand of clover. Wire worms and cut worms damaging crops.

Sixth District; East Central: Oats unusually good; early potatoes short crop; corn looking fine; wheat not filled out well; continued rains damaging wheat in shock.

Seventh District; South Western: Some are still planting corn. Growing corn in average good shape; tobacco looks well. First crop of alfalfa ruined on account of weather conditions. Labor scarce.

Seventh-A; Southeast South: Corn late. All late crops owing to early wet weather which has been followed by extreme dry spell. Tobacco not in good condition. Clover is ready for cutting. Pastures good.

Eighth District; South: Early setting of tobacco has been retarded on account of unfavorable season; corn is late and an uneven stand. Labor short; early potatoes short crop; prospects for late potatoes good.

Ninth District; South East Section: Excessive rains have caused grass and weeds to get ahead of the growing crops. Very short apple crop. Oats above average.

MAY PUT MONKEY WRENCH IN PROHIBITION MACHINE.

While Congress is considering a bill to enforce and make effective the prohibition amendment to the United States Constitution, a new possible monkey-wrench to the dry machinery is called up by the opinion of Chas. S. Rackemann, distinguished Boston jurist, as an authority on constitutional law. In this opinion, Mr. Rackemann holds that Congress must first pass legislation for the enforcement of the amendment, and that then the legislatures of at least 36 States must adopt the identical act passed by Congress in order to make the amendment effective.

Quoting from Section 2 of the amendment to the Federal Constitution, "The Congress and the several States shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation," Mr. Rackemann holds that legislation by Congress without concurrent legislation by at least 36 States will not be sufficient to make the amendment effective.

$50,000 SCHOOL BUILDING TO BE BUILT AT IRVINE.

A $50,000 city school building will be erected in Irvine in the near future. J. Virgil Chapman, Rural School Supervisor, has returned from Irvine where he addressed a public gathering on general school conditions, dealing particularly with the local conditions at Irvine. He emphasized the importance of better school buildings.

Before the meeting sixteen prominent residents of Irvine pledged $12,000 toward the construction of the new school building. It was decided at the meeting to hold an election for the purpose of issuing bonds to the constitutional limit to be used for the building. This sum will be augmented by private donations. The constitutional limit in Irvine is three per cent. of the assessed value of property in that city.

INNOCENT SKETCHES ARE WAR PLANS IN REALITY

One of the ingenious ideas of modern war strategy is to utilize artist skill in making a drawing of a fortification without betraying its purpose on the surface. The spy makes a drawing which appears to be an ordinary landscape. If caught with it he might pose with comparative safety as an artist who had been sketching for pleasure and was entirely ignorant of the existence of any fort and its surroundings.

Interpreted according to a secret code, however, the picture reveals to the spy's government a fairly complete plan of a fort. This is indicated by the character and position of details.

One kind of tree represents an armored gun turret.

A bush is an observation turret. Other forms of trees are gun positions, a couple of gates are entrances to the fort, a piece of fencing is a barbed wire entanglement, lines of bushes are ditches, and so on.

The fellow with nerve will often gain success while the man with brains is still hunting for it.

But does the demand for competent stenographers exceed the demand for good-looking ones?

When The Day Is Over

When the household cares and the worries of everyday life have dragged you down, made you unhappy, and there is nothing in life but headache, backache and worry, turn to the right prescription, one gotten up by Dr. Pierce fifty years ago.

Everything growing out of the ground seems intended for some use in establishing natural conditions. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found out what is naturally best for women's diseases. He learned it all through treating thousands of cases. The result of his studies was a medicine called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine is made of vegetable growths that nature surely intended for backache, headache, weakening, bearing-down pains, irregularities, pelvic inflammations, and for the many disorders common to women in all ages of life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is made of lady's slipper root, black cohosh root, unicorn root, blue cohosh root and Oregon grape root. Dr. Pierce knew, when he first made this standard medicine, that whiskey and morphine are injurious, and so he has always kept them out of his remedies. Women who take this standard remedy know that in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they are getting a safe woman's tonic so good that druggists everywhere sell it, in liquid or tablet form.

PHILOLOGICAL.

There is a certain young matron of Chicago whose social duties occupy so much of her time that she does not have much left for the care of her offspring, says the Youth's Companion.

One day one of her children fell ill and the mother hastily summoned the family physician. She greeted him at the door thus:

"It doesn't seem to be anything really serious, doctor, but I do wish you'd find out what is the matter with Louise. The French maid left this morning and there isn't a soul in the house that can understand what the poor child says."

DOCTOR URGED AN OPERATION

Instead I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Was Cured.

Baltimore, Md.—"Nearly four years I suffered from organic troubles, nervousness and headaches and every month would have to stay in bed most of the time. Treatments would relieve me for a time but my doctor was always urging me to have an operation. My sister asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before consenting to an operation. I took five bottles of it and it has completely cured me and my work is a pleasure. I tell all my friends who have any trouble of this kind what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—NELLIE B. BRITTINGHAM, 609 Calverton Rd., Baltimore, Md.

It is only natural for any woman to dread the thought of an operation. So many women have been restored to health by this famous remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after an operation has been advised that it will pay any woman who suffers from such ailments to consider trying it before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

STATE SUPT. ANNOUNCES LARGEST SCHOOL PER CAPITA.

FRANKFORT, KY., July 17.—V. O. Gilbert State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Monday announced the per capita for the public schools of this state to be $6.10. This is the state's largest school per capita and means an increase for the teachers in their pay of over $650,000 over last year. The teachers will receive in public money this year nearly $4,000,000 from the state.

The State Auditor reported to Gilbert that there would be $4,003,428 available from the state for school purposes. Out of this sum must be set aside a fund sufficient to run the Department of Education, which Gilbert has provided. He said Monday if the State School Department of Education won its contention in the inheritance tax cases which are now pending in the Court of Appeals, there would be added $500,000 to the school fund.

LEMON JUICE FOR FRECKLES

Girls! Make beauty lotion for a few cents—Try It!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless and never irritates. (apr18-1919)

DEAL FOR SALE OF ORIENTAL PARK DECLARED OFF

LEXINGTON, KY., July 17.—The deal for the sale of Oriental Park in Havana, for which negotiations have been pending between George W. Loft, of New York, and Curley Brown for some time, is off. The former Congressman has given as his reason for ending negotiations the insistence on the part of Brown to dictate to the management of the plant.

It is stated authoritatively that the Thoroughbred Horse Association has taken the place of G. W. Loft in the new negotiations for the purchase of the racing plant and this organization has an option on sixty-five per cent of the stock. The statement appearing in the Daily Racing Form concerning the negotiations is to the effect that Edward F. Simms, of Texas and Kentucky, and who is one of the owners of the powerful stable racing in the name of J. W. McClelland, will give $1,000,000 for the racing plant without any conditions.

A meeting was held in the Pennsylvania Hotel in New York on Saturday, at which Thomas C. McDowell and J. O. Keene, of Lexington, representing the Thoroughbred Horse Association, and Brown, represent the stockholders of Oriental Park, were present. Nothing was done at the meeting toward the purchase of the track, but Brown was plainly told the views of the committee of the Thoroughbred Horse Association, based on complaints and present values.

Curley Brown built the track at Jacksonville and after operating it at a large profit found himself closed out by the authorities of the State of Florida. He built the track at Havana, and has managed to make money. It is not believed in caring circles that the suggestion to build a rival plant in Havana will be supported by the Thoroughbred Horse Association, the opinion prevailing that Messrs. McDowell and Keene will bring about a solution of the difficulties, and as a result the Oriental Park track will become the property of a syndicate or be purchased outright by Edward F. Simms.

I have used a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at those times and they have always rid me of the complaint. I think they are a splendid medicine and gladly recommend them."

ROMANS USED QUEER BALLOTS.

Black beans and white beans were used by the ancients in gathering the votes of the people for the election of magistrates. A white bean signified an "aye" and a black one a "nay." When a politician failed to get elected he literally had "spilled the beans."

SECRETARY GLASS WILL HAVE TO ACT QUICKLY.

An unusual situation has arisen in connection with efforts of the Public Health Service, backed by the Treasury Department, to locate a sanitarium at Dawson Springs, Ky., and others elsewhere at points throughout the country to the sanitarium to be used for the care of ill and disabled soldiers and sailors.

After a hard fight the Dawson Springs proposition and those allied with it got through both Houses of Congress in connection with a bill which authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to investigate and select the location for them.

Under this law Dawson Springs undoubtedly would be finally selected as one of these institutions. However, Chairman Goode, of the House Committee on Appropriations, has introduced a bill which, if passed, will take from the hands of the Secretary of the Treasury the selection of these institutions and place the matter with a commission which would be appointed to investigate and then select the locations.

However, it is believed that Secretary Glass will act promptly in selecting and recommending the sites for these hospitals and that the matter will be closed up fairly promptly, in which event plans made for location of a sanitarium at Dawson Springs would be approved and carried into effect.

WAR CROSSES ON SALE FOR $5 IN NEW YORK PAWNSHOP

American distinguished service crosses and French war crosses won by American soldiers on the battlefields of France at risk of their lives are obtainable in New York pawnshops for the insignificant sum of $5, it has been learned.

Several pawnshop proprietors who displayed the gaily ribboned emblem of heroism in their dingy shops explained that they had been sold outright by soldiers who felt the pangs of hunger, but were too proud to beg. They were sold outright because their "pawn" value was insufficient to purchase a square meal.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

Consideration of the contemplated extensions and improvements in our service, which we have in mind has resulted in a slight delay in getting out our July bills.

In order that we may be enabled to carry through these plans with all possible dispatch it is necessary that our customers for their part give prompt attention to the payment of their accounts, which will be rendered within a few days.

We wish particularly to call attention to delinquent accounts, which we hardly feel justified in carrying further.

It is our firm belief that with the co-operation of the public we can develop a service which will be a decided improvement even over that which we have heretofore been able to furnish.

LOCAL OIL COMPANY PLANS SKY-SCRAPER FOR DANVILLE

The Danville Daily Messenger of Tuesday prints the following:

"Mr. C. L. Bell, of Paris, Ky., president of the Co-operating Land and Development Co., a corporation which recently purchased the house and lot on the corner of Fourth and Main streets in Danville, from Mrs. Mary Bruce, was in this city yesterday and to-day making plans for the erection of the proposed 'sky scraper' for Danville. Mr. E. L. Ford, the local manager, and Mr. Bell informed the Daily Messenger that work will start at an early date on razing the old building and the erection of a new five-story structure. The new building will be used for business houses on the first floor and for offices on some of the other floors. It has not been decided what other space in the building will be used for. The building, when completed will be quite an addition to our growing little city and one that has long been needed."

WHEAT THRESHING PROGRESSING.

The hot, dry weather of the past few days has been very favorable for wheat threshing, and most farmers in this county have finished. The yield is not generally as good as had been hoped for, but the quality is reported as being from fair to medium. The Paris Milling Co. was paying $2.14 per bushel for new wheat yesterday.

AN OPEN LETTER

Irvine, Kentucky,
"Hazard, Ky."
July 14, 1919.

"To Hazard Herald,
"Hazard, Ky."

"In your issue of June 19, you make mention of the fact that certain candidates for Railroad Commissioner in the Third District had withdrawn in favor of Mr. Eversole, and in this article you intimate that Judge Allen Cisco and I should go to work and have our brothers Clay Cisco and E. C. Kash withdraw.

"You also say that 'Mr. Cisco and Mr. Kash were requested to attend the candidates meeting, but did not do so.' I am writing to advise you that E. C. Kash was not advised of any such meeting, and I was not advised of it, and no one was advised of it until after it happened. I am informed by Judge Cisco that he had no notice of it. It is a well-known fact that my brother was a candidate, and also that Mr. Cisco was a candidate. Therefore, it cannot be said that E. C. Kash is in any wise bound by the action of a meeting to which he was not a party and of which he had no notice.

"At the State Convention at Lexington a Ninth District man, J. L. McCoy was a candidate for Secretary of State, and he withdrew in favor of Judge Fred Vaughn, of Paintsville, in the Tenth District. The Ninth District has no candidate on the State ticket. The Ninth District has more counties in this Railroad Commissioner District than any other Congressional district.

"We are entirely in the interest of party harmony. We are in the fight primarily to help the Republican ticket in November, and this we expect to do. My brother, E. C. Kash, has always been an active and consistent supporter of the Republican party and its candidates and will continue to be.

"We are willing to leave it to the Republicans of this entire Railroad Commissioner District as to who their candidate shall be.

"Yours truly,
"KELLEY KASH."

PARIS WATER COMPANY

We have had numerous inquiries regarding a supposed advance in our charges for water, and, therefore, wish to state that there has been NO CHANGE since that announced in our circular and advertisement of last December, when we restored the old contract rates, with an addition of ten per cent. to make up in part for increased costs to us.

Any increase in the amount of your July bill over those of April and January is explained by the fact that the entire ten per cent. increase referred to above was not applied until July 1st.

Minimum charge, $16.50 per year. Any old meter rates for water for special purposes which conflict with this schedule have been abolished.

OVERDUE ACCOUNTS.

We find on our books many accounts which are three months or more overdue, and, as it is impossible for us to continue to furnish water unless we are properly and promptly reimbursed, we are reluctantly obliged to announce that unless such bills are paid on or before July 17, service to these delinquent customers will be discontinued. In such cases the service will not be resumed until the full amount due us is paid, together with a charge of $1.00 for turning on.

BILLS DUE.

All bills are due and payable on presentation, and are rendered on the first day of January, April, July and October, and hereafter must be paid on the 15th of the same month, or service will be discontinued.

MISS HUNT TO VISIT BOURBON

THE NEWS has received the following from the Department of Publicity, Lake Division of the American Red Cross, at Cleveland, O., advising the coming of Miss Hunt, Red Cross nurse, to Bourbon, to-morrow:

"Foresight is the reason back of the visit of Miss Hunt in your county, July 19.

"The American Red Cross aims to prepare ahead of time for the return of the influenza epidemic predicted by medical authorities for this winter.

"To this end the organization is routing Red Cross nurses as speakers on chautauqua platforms through the Lake Division States—Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

"Miss Hunt will tell about the Red Cross course in Home Care of the Sick and Dietetics and will urge every young woman of the county who is planning for her future at this time to consider the opportunity for service she will have as Red Cross nurse."

REMOVAL NOTICE.

The office of the Paris Water Co. has been removed to the corner of Main and Broadway, in the Agricultural Bank building, where in the future all business will be transacted. Patrons are requested to call at once in reply to the notices just mailed to each consumer notifying them of their indebtedness to our company. Water bills are now due—dating from July 1 to October 1. Water rents not paid in 15 days will cause your service to be discontinued.

PARIS WATER COMPANY,
(11-1f) Newt. Mitchell, Supt.

THE SUGAR TRUST HAS US.

That the country is in the grip of the sugar trust is the firm conviction of a large majority of our people, who can see no relief for the present. The Trust has selected just the opportune time for squeezing the screw on the consumer. Just at blackberry harvest sugar is used in greater quantities than at almost any other time in the year. The blackberry crop is a very large one, and the demand for sugar is a proportionately large one.

And the wholesalers have no sugar, the retailers have a very little sugar and the refiners claim they are on the "short" end of the supply of raw goods. But the price to the consumer goes up and up just the same. Many are using brown sugar, which does very well for making jam, though many people who have been used to the granulated article turn up their noses at using the sugar we were all glad to get fifty years ago, and even two years ago. The trust has us by the short hair, and they will make us come across to the tune of about fifteen cents per pound or do without jam and preserves this winter.

There is still little relief in sight from the sugar famine which is being experienced by the housekeepers and others of Paris and Bourbon county and the grocers say there is very little sugar available yet. The Power Grocery Co. has several carloads under contract to be delivered in the near future, but communications from the refiners state that they are unable to set a definite date when this sugar can be delivered.

IN THE SERVICE OF THEIR COUNTRY.

Sergeant Robert L. Simms, who has been a guest for several days of his aunt, Mrs. J. S. Simms, near Paris, has returned to his home in Chicago. Sergt. Simms has but recently returned from an extended service overseas, where he was a member of the Thirty-second U. S. Engineer Corps, in the American Expeditionary Forces.

Private Thos. Elder arrived "back home" from France, Tuesday night, and is a guest at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Elder. Tommie has been in the service with the Engineering Corps of the American Expeditionary Forces in France for several months. He was not long in donning civilian clothes, in order to see how it felt to be a plain American citizen again. He will probably return to his old position in the Louisville & Nashville's service.

Private Wm. M. Slack, of Winchester, a brother of Mrs. Grant Robinson, of Paris, was killed in action at the Argonne Forest, in France, on October 9, 1919, according to the official report just received by his father, Mr. J. W. Slack, of Winchester. The report complimented young Slack for bravery, and stated that he had been previously recommended for a Distinguished Service Cross. He had been reported as missing.

PARIS MAN VICTIM OF HOLD-UP GAME.

Information was received here to the effect that Thomas Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Parker, of Paris, had been the victim recently of an attempted hold-up in Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Parker was walking along the lake front, when he was attacked by three men, one of whom held a revolver at his head. Another held him, while the third man proceeded to search the victim's pockets.

Parker's cries for assistance brought the police to the scene and the three hold-up men fled, without securing any booty. It is thought one of the men was wounded by a shot fired by one of the police, as he was seen to stagger, being helped away by his comrades.

Mr. Parker is a telegraph operator, and was formerly in charge of the local office of the Western Union and also in the Postal Telegraph Co.'s office, in Lexington. Several weeks ago he was married in Jeffersonville, Ind., to Miss Berryman, of Lexington, a niece of Mr. Charles Berryman, manager of the Elmendorf Farm.

TAGLESS AND HOMELESS DOGS.

A good many tagless and possibly homeless dogs have been noticed loafing around Paris recently. It seems as if somebody had brought some of them in and turned them loose to get rid of the job of paying the tax on them or of killing the dog. Somebody may get into trouble if they are caught at that little game.

Miss Annetta Dudley, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. W. Dudley, sustained a painful injury to one foot Tuesday. She had been working in her "war garden" and, dropping her rake, with the tines upward, when she went to the house on an errand. While running back to the garden, she jumped on the rake, which was concealed by the grass. Two of the tines pierced her foot, inflicting a serious wound. She was given immediate medical attention, and was resting very comfortably yesterday.

AUTO THIEVES AGAIN AT WORK

Thieves with a penchant for automobiles and automobile tires are working all through Central Kentucky. The daily papers and the county papers as well, contain a large number of instances of stolen autos. One of the recent victims of these thieves is Mr. Morris Stern. Thieves entered his private garage on Eighth street a few nights ago and stole a 1916 model six-passenger Buick machine, the property of Mr. Stern, which he recently purchased from Mr. Will H. Whaley. The police were notified, and are at work on the case.

After the business session, refreshments were served to the members of the lodge by the newly-installed officers.

STREETS BEING REPAIRED

A force of men under direction of the city engineer and Superintendent of Streets Stegall, were busy yesterday, in making repairs on Main street, between Sixth and Seventh. Several large holes which had been worn several inches below the level of the street are being filled with improved paving material, and put in condition for traffic. These unsightly defects on the principal thoroughfare of the city have been the cause of much caustic comment from visitors, and of long and loud emanations of profanity from many motorists whose automobiles have suffered severe shocks from bumping into and out of these "shell-holes."

NORTH MIDDLETOWN VOTES TO BUILD GRADED SCHOOL.

By a vote of 191 to 2, the school election held in North Middletown precinct Tuesday on the question of levying a tax of fifty cents on each one hundred dollars' worth of property taxable for High School purposes, to maintain a Graded School in that precinct, was carried. The School Commissioners will purchase the grounds and buildings of the Kentucky Classical and Business College, one of the oldest educational institutions in the State.

The election had been called after the required number of signatures to a petition asking for such an election had been secured and presented to the Bourbon Fiscal Court. The measure stated that the tax increase for the establishment of this school should not exceed an amount of more than fifty cents on each $100 of taxable property in proposed district and that the poll-tax for each male voter should be $1.50.

It is the present intention to have the old buildings somewhat remodeled so as to have them ready for occupancy at the beginning of the school term in September.

SPECIAL REGISTRATION DAY FOR CITY VOTERS JULY 19

Announcement has been made by County Clerk Pearce Paton that Saturday, July 19, has been set as Special Registration Day, when voters who did not register at the regular time will be given another opportunity to do so.

Any person who has lived in the State one year, the county six months and the precinct sixty days, is eligible to vote in the State primary, on August 2, provided they hold a certificate of registration.

The special registration for July 19 is for those persons entitled to vote who were absent from the city for some reason, who were ill, who have attained their majority since the last registration day, or who have moved into the city since the regular registration day.

LARGE SHIPMENT OF LIVESTOCK

The livestock market this week in the county has been an active one, and shipments of stock have been going forward rapidly from various sections of the county. Prices of hogs and cattle have shown an upward tendency, and lambs remaining at a level price.

Caywood & McClintock shipped 3,700 head of lambs to the Eastern market at prices ranging around fifteen cents per pound. The same firm shipped a carload of lambs from Elizabeth and two carloads of butcher cattle, weighing 1,100 pounds a head, for which they paid eleven cents per pound. They also shipped from Hutchison a carload of hogs averaging two hundred pounds, for which they paid from nineteen to twenty cents per pound.

The child was a nephew of Miss Beatrice Johnson, who has been a guest of Miss Betsy Ray at her home in this city on numerous occasions.

The accident happened at exactly the same place where an older brother of the boy was killed in the same manner about four years ago. The scene of the accident was directly in front of the home of the child's grandparents.

BIG WATERMELON CROP.

It is said that the watermelon crop of Bourbon county this year will be an unusually large one, and that the prospects for a bumper crop of the luscious fruit is a good one. This may have a tendency to bring down the sky-high prices prevailing at present. Southern melons are selling in the local market from $1.00 to $1.50, and not of a superior quality at that.

BOURBON COUNTY MAN BUYS DEMPSEY'S CAR.

There's a very noticeable chesty look about Allie Perkins, of the Bourbon Garage & Supply Co., these days, due to the possession of an automobile that once belonged to Jack Dempsey, now the champion heavyweight pugilist of the world.

Some time after the now historic event in which Dempsey gained the championship and added $101,000, or more, to his bank roll, he was in Cincinnati preparing to return to his home in California. Visiting a garage where he had left his car, one of the Stutz make, he remarked that he would like to find a purchaser for it, as he did not desire to go to the trouble and expense of taking it back with him. Perkins happened to be in the place at the time, and over-hearing the remark, immediately opened negotiation. After some time the deal was made, and for a monetary consideration, "not given out for publication," the car passed into Mr. Perkins' possession. He drove it to Paris from Cincinnati.

Perkins values the car, not so much for its intrinsic worth, as for the fact that it was once the property of the world's champion. He says the car is a beauty and all that, but that it doesn't "go" any better than other makes. The garage has been visited by hundreds who desired to inspect the machine.

DECLARES SECRET PLEDGES WERE GIVEN TO JAPAN.

WASHINGTON, July 17. — A charge that Japan secretly secured pledges from Great Britain, France, Italy and Russia early in 1917 that in the peace settlement Shantung peninsula should, for certain considerations, be turned over to the Tokio government was made in the Senate, Senator Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, who produced what he declared to be copies of diplomatic correspondence embodying the promises of Great Britain and France.

These pledges, the Nebraska Senator declared, fully explained the pressure which resulted in Shantung's transfer to Japan under the Versailles treaty, whose ratification by the Senate, he asserted, would write "the blackest page in the nation's history."

Great Britain's influence in the matter, he charged, was secured by Japan's support of British claims to Pacific islands south of the Equator, while France's aid was purchased by a promise of the Tokio government to help draw China into the war so that German ships in Chinese harbors would be available for carrying troops and provisions to France.

IGNORANCE OF POSTAGE RATES MAKES CONFUSION.

That a large number of people in Paris are ignorant of the postage rates is proved by the fact that a large number of letters with one-cent instead of two-cent stamps are received daily at the Paris postoffice. "We are annoyed considerably by this," said Postmaster J. Walter Payne. "Some persons seem to think that drop letters for the Paris postoffice require only one cent postage. Letters, whether addressed to Paris, Bourbon county, any part of the United States, possessions of the United States, Mexico, England or English possessions, require two-cent stamps."

Postmaster Payne explained that the only letters that may be sent through the postoffice by one-cent stamps are unsealed, printed, circular letters. He said that the employees in the postoffice are hindered in their work by letters posted with stamps of the wrong denomination. In instances such as these mentioned, the letters are delivered, but the person to whom they are addressed are required to pay one cent postage due.

Letters mailed to any member of the American Expeditionary Forces in France require two-cent stamps, but five-cent stamps are required for other addresses in France and for letters sent to South America.

The law covering the subject, which became effective July 1, 1919, is as follows:

"Upon all matter of the first class, postage shall be charged at the rate of two cents for each ounce or fraction thereof; and drop letters shall be mailed at the rate of two cents per ounce or fraction thereof, including delivery at letter-carrier offices, and one cent for each ounce or fraction thereof where free delivery by carrier is not established."

"Postage on letters deposited in rural or star-route boxes, or mailed to persons who are served by rural or star-route carriers, shall be charged at the rate of two cents for each ounce or fraction thereof."

"When persons or concerns of any city or place sends their letters in bulk for mailing for local delivery at a postoffice at another place where the one-cent drop letter rate is applicable, such letters are not drop letters, and are not entitled to the one-cent drop-letter rate, but shall be charged with postage at the rate of two cents for each ounce or fraction of an ounce."

HARVARD MOUTH IN VOGUE.

(Boston Post.)

The day has passed when it is possible to tell a Harvard man by his walk. The famous Harvard slouch is no more. Close observers who find themselves nonplussed in picking out Cambridge undergraduates need not worry, however, for the type of soup spoon used in the Harvard dining halls will shortly make it possible to tell a Harvard man by the size of his mouth.

The soup spoon by which the Harvard undergraduates transfer their consume from plate to palate is one of those gross affairs, the body of which is about three inches long and two inches wide. The type of spoon permits a hasty diner to devour his soup in about two movements of his arm, but in accomplishing the feat it is necessary to open wide the mouth. The great spoon possibly came from the era when there was no music in the Harvard dining halls and it behooved the diners to provide their own noise.

The Cambridge collegians are not complaining. So long as the dining hall stewards provide enough soup to fill the spoons, they will be satisfied. But even the Gold Coast boys who were born with silver spoons in their mouths do say that the soup spoons are a trifle large and that they would be more serviceable in excavating the New York subway or dredging the Panama Canal.

WAITING FOR HIS CUE.

(Tit-Bits.)

In one of the midland towns a number of jockeys and horses had lined up for the start of a steeplechase, but the delay occurred owing to a tall, rawbone beast obstinately refusing to yield to the importunities of the starter.

The patience of the gentleman was pretty well exhausted:

"Bring up that horse," he shouted; "Bring him up! You'll jolly well get into trouble if you don't!"

The rider of the stupid animal, a local grocer's carman, yelled back: "I can't help it, this here's been a cab horse and he won't move till the door shuts; and there ain't no door."

THE WHOLE THING

A soldier in a hospital on recovering consciousness said: "Nurse, what is this on my head?"

"Vinegar cloths," she replied. "You have had fever."

After a pause: "And what is this on my chest?"

"A mustard plaster. You have had pneumonia."

"And what is this at my feet?"

"Salt bags. You have had frost-bite."

A soldier from the next bed looked up and said: "Hang a pepper-box to his nose, nurse, then he will be a cruet."

The fellow whose feet interfere has no business wearing white hose with his low shoes.

SUMMER COMPLAINT IN CHILDREN.

There is not anything like so many deaths from this disease now as before Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy came into such general use. When this remedy is given with castor oil as directed and proper care is taken as to diet, it is safe to say that fully ninety-nine out of every hundred cases recover. Mr. W. G. Campbell, of Butler, Tenn., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy for summer complaint in children. It is far ahead of anything I have ever used for this purpose."

AGED NEGRO IS LATEST TEXAS "OIL CROESUS."

Texas' latest "oil millionaire" is a very black, white-haired negro, who lives in a two-room shack near Corsica.

A deep test well in Green Springfield's 400 acres is expected to come in this week, adding a cool $1,000,000 to the $500,000 oil and careful farming have already provided.

Green doesn't know what he will do with the money. Most of his savings now are in Liberty Bonds and he hopes the Government will be able to use the remainder.

Green is highly respected in the county—honest, a good farmer and a valued citizen.

THOROUGHbred ASSOCIATION TO CONTROL HAVRE DE GRACE TRACK.

Control of the Havre de Grace, Md., race track has passed to the Thoroughbred Horse Association of America, which purchased 51 per cent. of the stock of the track corporation for $250,000.

It was announced that in the future the track will be operated under the "Simms plan" which will limit profits to 10 per cent. on the investment, the surplus revenue being used to make the track "one of the picturesque landmarks of the East," and improved breeding.

LOSS OF APPETITE.

As a general rule there is nothing serious about a loss of appetite, and if you skip a meal or only eat two meals a day for a few days you will soon have a relish for your meals when meal time comes. Bear in mind that at least five hours should always elapse between meals, so as to give the food ample time to digest and the stomach a period of rest before a second meal is taken. Then if you eat no more than you crave and take a reasonable amount of outdoor exercise every day you will not need to worry about your appetite. When the loss of appetite is caused by constipation, as is often the case, that should be corrected at once. A dose of Chamberlain's Tablets will do it.

Three Reasons Why We Oppose the Nomination of Judge Carroll for Governor

(An Editorial from The Elizabethtown Mirror.)

First. In the fiercest fight ever waged on a Democratic candidate for Governor in Kentucky, Judge Carroll, it is alleged, scratched the ticket and refused to vote for William Goebel in that election.

Governor Goebel was the author of the Anti-Lottery Law; of the Franchise Tax Law, whereby the great corporations were compelled to contribute in a just and equitable manner to the support of the State; he began the movement that finally resulted in the creation of the State Railroad Commission with power to regulate freight rates, etc.; he advocated the passage of the Fellow Servant Law and the Employers Liability Law, and was the pioneer in school-book legislation.

And it was William Goebel, the implacable foe of corporate greed and the untiring friend of popular rights, that Judge Carroll refused to support for Governor.

Second. In his refusal to sit in the recent School Book case—the most important litigation of recent years before the Court of Appeals, and in which every child and school patron in Kentucky had a direct interest—Judge Carroll openly shirked the duties of his office as Chief Justice, thereby permitting a "hung jury" in the Court and delaying the opening of the schools, while drawing his salary as a Judge and "pussyfooting" over the State in a futile effort to win the gubernatorial nomination.

On the other hand, Governor Black neglected his own campaign, stayed on the job at Frankfort, and prevented a re-election, by the Stanley Book Commission, of the objectionable school books, and gave to fair-minded Kentuckians evidence of the conscientious discharge of his official duties.

Is Carroll a conscientious judge or merely an expedient candidate?

Third. The gratuitous monetary aid which Eli H. Brown, Jr., is lending Judge Carroll in meeting the latter's campaign expenses, is one of the alarming exposures of the last few days. "Eli H. Brown, Jr." has been a prominent figure in some unsavory transactions in Kentucky political history, only recently having been "probed out" of a lucrative position by the Kentucky Legislature in a "pore demand" crusade, because his $8,000 job carried with it no duties except that of holding out an itching palm for the pay envelope. Eli H. Brown, Jr., received several thousand dollars from the compromise of the Harkness Inheritance Tax suit, and which settlement, it is charged, in a suit recently instituted to reopen said case, fraudulently deprived Kentucky of several hundred thousand dollars. Eli H. Brown, Jr., is the reputed law partner of M. M. Logan, Judge Carroll's campaign manager, and the latter only recently, we are informed, made a strenuous effort to have the Bingham Inheritance Tax case compromised for a sum claimed to be many hundred thousands of dollars less than the amount due the State. It was during the incumbency of M. M. Logan as Attorney General that the Harkness case was settled as aforesaid.

With Judge Carroll's candidacy having the support of Eli H. Brown, Jr., Henry Hines, Billy Blair and others of their kind, it seems to us that if there is any house cleaning needed in Kentucky, it ought to start in the Carroll campaign headquarters.

There are still other reasons why we oppose the nomination of Judge Carroll, among which is the fact, HE CAN NOT WIN IN NOVEMBER.

Our vote shall be for BLACK AND DEMOCRATIC SUCCESS IN NOVEMBER.

KIDNEYS WEAKENING?

Kidney troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow slowly but steadily, undermining health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease. Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1896 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its preparation and sale.

The housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They restore strength and are responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

REPEAL OF DAYLIGHT SAVING LAW A FAILURE.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Repeal of the daylight saving laws became a dead issue for the present, at least, by the failure of the House Monday to pass the Agricultural Bill over President Wilson's veto. The vote was 247 to 135, proponents of repeal mustering twenty-three votes less than the required two-thirds majority.

The Agricultural Bill will be passed with the repeal rider eliminated and it was said that no effort would be made to pass the repeal measure as a separate bill, as it undoubtedly would be vetoed by the President. Under the now defeated rider, the law would have been repealed on October 26.

Immediately after Speaker Gillett announced the result amid the applause of supporters of the daylight saving law, the bill was referred back to the Agricultural Committee, which will meet probably Tuesday to report the measure with the repeal rider eliminated.

Because of the House action the Senate will not have the opportunity to attempt passage of the bill over the President's veto.

The House vote did not divide along political lines, the proponents of the repeal being those representing agricultural districts.

BETTER THAN A SUNSET

(National Monthly)

'Twas eventide. The small lad stood on the bridge clapping his hands vigorously. Beyond the brow of the hill a dull, red glow suffused the sky.

"Ah, little boy!" remarked the stranger, who was a little near-sighted, "it does my heart good to see that you appreciate yon cloud effect."

"Yes, sir," replied the lad. "I've been watching it for ten minutes."

Upon the boy's face there appeared a smile of perfect bliss.

"A real poet without doubt. And do you watch the sunset often, little boy?"

"Sunset? Why, that ain't a sunset, Guv'nor, that's our school house burning down."

GUARD WHEAT AGAINST RATS AND MICE.

"The greatest wheat crop ever produced in America is being harvested. Grain elevators will soon become veritable treasuries, which thieving rats and mice will break into if they can.

Don't feed $2.26 wheat to rats and mice, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Traps, poison and rat-proof construction will stop their raids.

The arch enemies of stored grain are dampness and rodent pests—rats and mice. An elevator with a leaky roof is only a little worse than one allowing free entry to rats and mice. The present price of wheat makes a telling appeal for rat proof construction of wheat containers. Now is the time to fill rat holes with cement, or cover them with sheet iron, and to build new mouse-proof granaries of either concrete or galvanized sheet iron.

Where rats and mice have plenty of food and are unmolested, they multiply overwhelmingly. For example, in Australia during the great war, sacks of wheat in high piles awaiting shipment became infested by mice, which riddled the sacks and destroyed a large part of the contents before preventative steps were taken. Under similar circumstances a like result would inevitably occur in this country. Where it is impracticable to provide tight containers for stored products, steps should be taken immediately to trap or poison rats and mice in the general vicinity of storage buildings, and should be continued till the last rodent is disposed of.

The United States Department of Agriculture furnishes plans and bills of materials for rat-proof granaries, and in its Farmers' Bulletin 896 described various methods of destroying rats and mice. These publications may be had free on application to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

REVENUE OFFICES TO BE MOVED TO LOUISVILLE.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Daniel C. Roper has refused to be influenced by Kentucky Senators and Congressmen who have undertaken to retain at least two internal revenue combination districts in the State, and has announced his adherence to his original intention of consolidating all of the State into a district with headquarters at Louisville.

While no official statement could be obtained on the matter of the collectorship, it seems to be a pretty well assured fact that Collector Elwood Hamilton, of the Lexington district, will be made collector of the new district. There is a vacancy in the Louisville office which was to have been filled by the appointment of Charles J. Cronan, who the Senate failed to confirm at the last session of Congress and who has not been renominated.

It is believed that in view of the consolidation of districts the President will not make a new appointment and let out four old officers already in. If one of the four is selected for the new office it is generally believed that it will be Mr. Hamilton.

However, it was stated at the office of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that the matter of a collector for the new district had not been determined.

PILING IT ON.

(New York Evening World)

He had been on a hunting expedition for several days in the backwoods, roughing it rather severely, and on taking a seat in a railway carriage, returning homeward he looked as begrimed and weather-beaten a trapper as ever brought his skins into a settlement, says the Cleveland Leader.

He happened to find a seat next to a young lady—evidently belonging to Boston—who, after taking stock of him for a few minutes, remarked:

"Don't you find an utter passionate sympathy with nature's most incandescent asperations among the sky-topping mountains and the dim aisles of the horizon-touching forests, my good man?"

"Oh, yeas," replied the apparent back-woodsman, "and I am also frequently drawn into an exultation of rapt soulfulness and beatific incandescence of abstract contiguity when my horse stumbles."

"Indeed!" said the young lady, much surprised, "I had no idea that the lower classes feel like that."

U. S. WANTS MEN FOR SERVICE ON BORDER.

Men are wanted by the army for service with organization on the Mexican border, where there are several good "outfits" which are not up to full strength, according to Colonel H. A. Pfeil, head of the Lexington central recruiting station. Among them is the famous Third Infantry, which was organized in 1792, and which has seen service in every war in which the United States has engaged since that time. In the war with Mexico, it was under the command of Zachary Taylor, then a Major General. In the Civil War the organization participated in twenty-one battles and sieges.

AN OBITUARY

(Luke McLuke, in Cincinnati Enquirer.)

Oswald Fish is dead. Oswald was merely a goldfish, but he was Luke's friend and companion. For nine years he swam around in a large bowl and kept us in good humor by his antics. He was the last of a family of ten. All of his brothers and sisters died off some seven years ago, and Oswald lived alone. He wasn't a fancy goldfish. He was about half sucker minnow and half sardine, but he was a cheerful cuss, a boon companion and a faithful friend. He never complained until the last, and took things as they came like a real optimist. Prohibition killed Oswald. One day, some six years ago, Luke accidentally sloped a little beer out of a glass while standing over Oswald's bowl. Oswald dashed up to the surface and tasted the beer. He sucked up every drop he could find and hunted for more. We gave him a little more. Oswald drank it. Then he pulled off a three-ring circus all by himself. He looped the loop, stood on his head, stood on his tail and threw triple somersaults. Every day after that we saw that Oswald received his daily ration of beer. And Oswald displayed his gratitude by pulling off his three-ring circus. But Prohibition put an end to beer, and two weeks ago we gave Oswald his last drink. Every day since he has tried to attract our attention so that we would give him his beer, but we had none to give him. Poor Oswald sulked at the bottom of the bowl for days at a time and would not be comforted. He would not eat, and he would not drink water. Yesterday morning we found him dead. The water in the bowl had turned into salt and Oswald was encased in the salt. He had wept to much that his tears turned the water into brine and this caused his death. He died of thirst.

KENTUCKY BLUEGRASS CROP SHOWS BIG INCREASE.

A somewhat larger production of bluegrass seed than last year in Kentucky and considerably larger production in Missouri and Iowa is reported by numerous correspondents in the seed-producing sections of these States. The summaries of the reports received from Kentucky, are given below:

The acreage of Kentucky bluegrass seed that was stripped this season in Kentucky beginning June 5 and ending about June 20, was about 95 per cent. more than that of last year, hence the reduced acreage this year is more than offset by the increased yield per acre, resulting in a production this season of approximately 400,000 bushels of stripped seed as compared with an estimated production last season of 350,000 bushels.

JOHN FOX, JR.

(Paducah News-Democrat)

John Fox, Jr., the Kentucky novelist who made the Kentucky mountains and the mountain people famous, is dead at the age of 56. We scarcely thought him that old. It seems such a little while ago that we recall hearing him mentioned as the young Kentucky author, and we were reading his first contributions to literature with such interest. Even at that his death came far too soon, for one so gifted, and even when death came was engaged on another book. John Fox was in every sense of the word a Kentuckian. He lived with and loved the simple mountain folk, and his true picture of them as set forth in his numerous novels, has done much to give them the place they deserve in the estimation of the public. His stories were mostly of the mountain life in Eastern Kentucky and had wide popularity. "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" and "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" had the greatest popular appeal, and were most widely read, but there were others that possibly might be regarded as having equal, if not greater, literary merit.

His first literary production of note appeared in the early nineties and he has ranked well among the producers of current fiction. He had first place in his exclusive field and this fact gave distinctive quality to his work.

Many people in all parts of the English-speaking world will regret to learn that one who contributed so much to their entertainment has died in the prime of middle life.

In saying that he led in his exclusive field is not intended as a comparison to other contemporary Kentucky writers. James Lane Allen, earlier in the field but still alive, wrote of Kentucky life, but of different sections of the State. Fox dealt with the mountains and has not been surpassed in that particular line.

His passing removed one who has done much to give to the Kentucky mountains a charm which has appealed and which will linger so long as the name of John Fox survives.

METHODIST CONFERENCE AT SHELBYVILLE NEXT YEAR.

The Committee on Location of the Kentucky Conference, M. E. Church, South, has accepted the invitation of the Centenary Methodist church, at Shelbyville, to hold the next annual conference there, September 3 to 9, inclusive. There will be about 200 ministerial and lay delegates in attendance and many visitors. Bishop Collins Denny, of Richmond, Va., will preside.

The conference was to have met in Winchester, but plans were changed because the new Methodist church will not be completed by that time. Paris and Mt. Sterling had been mentioned.

IN THE SWIRL OF KENTUCKY POLITICS.

With the primary election but fourteen days off, candidates are making plans for a whirlwind finish. The race between Gov. Black and Judge Carroll, two leading Democratic candidates for Governor, will be close, politicians say, and they now are seen as only noses apart.

P. J. Noel, Harrodsburg, who is opposing Judge Carroll and Gov. Black for the Democratic nomination for Governor, has closed his headquarters in the Willard Hotel. In doing so, however, he said it did not mean he was out of the race, explaining that his business was such that he could not spend sufficient time in Louisville to justify him in maintaining headquarters.

R. C. Oldham, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor, has challenged his opponent, W. H. Shanks, of Stanford, for an open discussion of important campaign issues at Owenton, Monday, July 28.

Locally, the political pot is merely simmering, as the candidates for Councilmanic offices have just begun to circulate among their constituents. Campaign managers for the gubernatorial candidates are laying their wires and perfecting arrangements for advancing the fortunes of their favorites.

Another race said to be narrowing down to a fine point is that between Henry M. Bosworth, Lexington, and John W. Rawlings, Danville, for the Democratic nomination for State Auditor. Mr. Rawlings is said to be making a whirlwind finish. Backers of Mr. Bosworth contend that he has a comfortable lead, and will have little trouble retaining it.

The voters are looking forward to the meeting at Mayfield next Monday, when Gov. Black and Judge Carroll are expected to divide time. By reason of the lack of contest within the Republican party, all interest in the primary naturally centers within the Democratic ranks. The three races in which there is a contest in the Republican ranks are Attorney General and Railroad Commissioner in the Second and Third railroad districts, but the leaders of the Republican party are taking much interest in the outcome of the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Efforts on the part of the rival aspirants for the Democratic nomination for Governor in the August primary to stir up enthusiasm among the Democratic voters throughout the State has met with little success. Old-time politicians assert that the present campaign has been one of the most apathetic in the history of the State. The aspirants for the nomination for the various State offices to be filled by election in November are busy beating the bushes from one end of the State to the other in an effort to work up sufficient enthusiasm to get the voters to the polls on August 2.

STATE HEALTH OFFICER ISSUES INFLUENZA WARNING.

There will be 9,000 or 10,000 deaths from influenza in this State this fall unless Kentuckians take proper precautions to ward off the disease through inoculation. Dr. A. T. McCormick, of the Kentucky State Board of Health, declared in an address before the Red Cross Institute in the University of Kentucky.

Dr. McCormick said he fears another epidemic.

"Every person in the State should be inoculated in the last two weeks of August and the first part of September, and if this is done there will be little likelihood of the epidemic recurring," he said.

Dr. McCormick said 300,000 persons were inoculated in 1918, and that only three died from influenza or pneumonia.

The usual death rate in Kentucky is 4,000, he said, but in 1918 there were 15,000 deaths.

He also advised the creation of county health departments, in charge of trained doctors, who will devote their entire time to this work.

The purpose of the State Health Board, he said, is not merely to multiply the county offices, but to place men in charge of the county who have proved they can really economically and effectively reduce the sick and death rate in that county.

The Red Cross course is being given at the University to train nurses for duty should there be an outbreak. The lack of nurses to help during the influenza epidemic last fall cost many lives in Kentucky, it is said.

MAY STOP KEEPING LIQUOR IN HOMES.

A man's right to keep liquor in his own home, which stood the test before the House Judiciary Committee, must take its chances in the House.

Notice has been served on the committee by one of its members that when the house resumes consideration of the prohibition enforcement measure an amendment would be offered to make it unlawful for a person to retain possession of liquor stored prior to July 1. The committee, in framing the general enforcement measure, eliminated the section which would have made home storage illegal, but the big majority polled Monday by prohibitionists was accepted in some quarters to mean that the bill in certain respects will be made still more drastic.
